Pharmion is a pharmaceutical company focused on acquiring, developing and commercialising innovative products for the treatment of hematology and oncology patients in the U.S., Europe and additional international markets. As of June 30, 2005, Pharmion had $227.3 million in cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments.

Wendy Kitteridge, the International Commercial Operations Director in charge of the project was looking to achieve an elegant environment where they could entertain their clients and staff. The material used - slate, limestone, granite and glass - give a luxurious feel to the space. The colour scheme has been designed around earthy colours and the designers made maximum use of the natural light, creating a peaceful and calming working environment.
